

Misc. Docs.

October 6, 1983

The Honorable Victor Dahman
Justice Court, Madera County
Madera, California

CL/CW/MD-05

Dear Judge Dahman:

Enclosed is a signed statement given to me by Ms. Pam Sargent on August 10, 1983.

Also enclosed is a newspaper article of 7/1/75 captioned "Drug Indictment Names Ex-Agent, 2 S.F. Policemen". The law enforcement officers mentioned in this article who are now serving prison sentences were shielding drug manufacturers Ben Kalka, Al C. Holbert and Richard Knossi.

Also enclosed is an article of 1/19/82 which sets forth information concerning the murder of Paul Morasca. At the time of Morasca's murder he was working with Federal and San Bernardino County authorities to expose and prosecute Kalka, Holbert and Knossi for drug activity. Following Morasca's death, large quantities of LSD and chemicals disappeared from their San Francisco location after the location was given to San Francisco authorities by informants. These chemicals included 940 pounds of pure methamphetamine and large quantities of raw material for production of methamphetamine (35,000 pounds of phenyl-acetic acid and 100 55-gallon drums of 40% monomethylamine).

The materials were purchased in 1980 by Kalka, Holbert and Knossi from Zero Waste Inc., Oakland, California, and Ark Distribution Company, Contra Costa, California. They were then placed in the Fresno and Madera area. Pam Sargent was the girlfriend of one of the principals involved in handling these materials. After leaving the San Francisco area the drugs reportedly were placed somewhere in Kern County, California, which is probably their present location.

My investigation of this group is a spin-off from the investigation of the Dr. Jeffrey R. MacDonald murders which occurred in North Carolina in 1970. Dr. MacDonald, who is accused of murdering his wife and two children, is serving three consecutive life sentences. He did not commit these crimes. They were committed by members of a satanic cult that practices human sacrifices. There has been involvement between members of the cult that killed the MacDonald family and the cult and drug community on the West Coast.

The enclosed statement from Ms. Sargent explains how we became acquainted. After providing me with this statement Ms. Sargent passed a polygraph examination.

The Honorable Victor Dahman
October 6, 1983
Page Two

It is apparent from reviewing this material that the law enforcement community is attempting to discredit and neutralize me. I am not sure why. Possibly I am creating too many problems in the drug community. Another possibility involves the fact that I will be a witness for Dr. MacDonald at an expected retrial. I can prove the satanic cults have infiltrated the government, which may also be a factor.

Confidential sources tell me there is a contract on my life. I am considered a threat to the "political structure" of the satanic cult movement and the drug community. I have also been told that the Kalka group and others are concerned that Ms. Sergeant is cooperating with me. There is good reason to be concerned about her safety since I have information that this group has committed 18 murders since January 1982.

I am disappointed in the unprofessionalism of the FBI, The Drug Enforcement Agency and the State of California Drug Enforcement Agency. They have attempted to entrap me and even now, in their attempts to force Ms. Sergeant to cooperate with them, are engaging in extortion under the color of the law. I pray that you will not be a part of this conspiracy. I have been told you are a very fair person. Please carefully consider all the facts before making your decision concerning Ms. Sergeant's possible extradition to Florida.

Respectfully yours,

Ted L. Gunderson

TLG/mf

Enclosures

cc: George Cajiga, Esq.
F. Lee Bailey, Esq.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE 2/2/85
Businessman gets four-year cocaine term

The Tribune

An Oakland businessman arrested with two pounds of cocaine and $77,000 in cash was sentenced yesterday in Alameda County Superior Court.

Ben Kalka, 36, who has been convicted twice before on drug sale charges, was given the maximum term of four years in prison.

Although Kalka made about $50,000 a year from his 50th Avenue business of restoring antique motorcycles for use in Hollywood films, he told court authorities that his involvement in drugs was motivated by "greed."

Charged with possession of cocaine for sale, Kalka was arrested Aug. 28 in his Oakland hills home.

Hog-Tied Body on Telegraph Hill

San Francisco police said yesterday they have no suspects and know of no motive in the baffling slaying of a young man whose body was found hog-tied in his Telegraph Hill condominium.

Homicide inspectors Ed Erdelatz and Jeff Brosch said the 30-year-old victim, Paul Morasca, was found late Thursday night on a bed inside 1205 Kearny Street, at the corner of Vallejo Street.

Police found Morasca after receiving a phone call from a lawyer in Los Angeles, advising them of the apparent murder. The lawyer, who was not named by police, said he had been called by some of Morasca's friends, who had gone to the apartment and found Morasca dead.

It was not clear yesterday how the friends got into Morasca's apartment or why they called a lawyer 400 miles away instead of police in San Francisco.

Police said Morasca's wrists were bound behind his back and then tied to his ankles. They said he had been dead for as long as two weeks and that he was apparently strangled.

Coroner's officials were awaiting the delivery of dental charts from Morasca's local dentist in order to make a positive identification.

Morasca paid $112,000 for the condominium last August, according to City Hall records, and, given the number of unpacked boxes lying around his lodgings, apparently was still in the process of moving in.

Authorities said they did not know Morasca's occupation, although mining magazines were found in his apartment, and there were indications he belonged to a Bay Area health club.

His father, John Morasca, lives in Reno. The father declined to be interviewed on the telephone. A family spokesman said of the younger Morasca, "He's dead now we don't have anything to say to the papers."

His Telegraph Hill neighbors said they knew little about him and had heard nothing suspicious coming from the apartment Thursday night or earlier.

8 Cleared in Riot Harrisburg, Ill.

After deliberating 12 hours yesterday, a jury acquitted eight of 10 United Mine Workers members charged with participating in a riot last August 18 at the non-union Kerr-McGee Corp. mine site.

Associated Press

Zokosky
CORPORATION

Hog-Tied Body on T

San Francisco police said yesterday they have no suspects and know of no motive in the baffling slaying of a body was ment or why they called 400 miles away instead of San Francisco.

Police said Mora were bound behind his back and then tied to his ankles.

feb. 16, 1984 statement of Michael J. Riconosciuto:

I first heard of Phil Forath in December of 1981. John Phillip Nichols told Paul Morasca and myself that we needed Phil Forath as a consultant to Recovery Technology Inc. Forath was represented by John P. Nichols as being able to smoothly handle metals transactions for RTI on a large scale. Phil Forath was one of the contacts that John Phillip Nichols had committed to arrange for Paul as part of our deal. Paul Morasca's body was found after he failed to contact Forath for that scheduled meeting in January '82.

CL/CW/MD-06

After Paul's death, JPN came to me with a request. He asked me if I could recover some of Ben Kalka's LSD because he had a sale for 5 lbs of it to someone in Romania. John Phillip Nichols claimed that this was an authorized covert intelligence operation and the proceeds would be used to purchase George Wackenhut's yacht. Top Secret. Military electronics equipment to be delivered to South Africa was also to be purchased according to JPN and delivered by the yacht. I went along with the program because JPN told me that the agency was involved through WSI. I did some checking on my own and became suspicious of JPN. Then JPN met with myself and Rauol Arana of Central Caribbean Research Inc. At this meeting, the details were plainly discussed by Mr. Arana. At that point, JPN directed me to have PAT (Phillip Arthur Thompson) recover -- of Kalka's assets. I then contacted DeSilva, who had control of Kalka's assets. I agreed to release them to me. DeSilva later called the Indian Reservation and gave the location of the assets which included: one bobtail semi truck with power lift gate loaded with amphetamine production chemicals; one red Datsun truck with a portable refrigerator containing the acid.

I accompanied PAT and Steve Finley to the locations of these vehicles in the Oakland area. The keys, title and registration were with each vehicle. PAT and SF drove the vehicles off and I reported to JPN that the vehicles had been located and picked up. I also reported to my attorney, DW (Don Wager), the details. I contacted JPN a few days later and he complained to me that PAT had made off with everything.

...with George Wackenhut in Las Vegas. JPN told me that my problems would be over with if I went along with the program. Bryan Weiss drove me to Palm Springs where I rented a car. JPN, myself and Bryan Weiss then drove to Las Vegas.

We arrived in Las Vegas late in the afternoon. We checked into the hotel. After we checked in, I then was introduced to Phil Forath by JPN.

Forath seemed a little nervous and upset with JPN. JPN seemed desperate to have Forath stall George W. on the sale of the yacht. Phil Forath seemed reluctant to go along with JPN.

JPN, myself and Forath then went to a private section of the dining room and met with GW and JA. During dinner, JPN outlined my situation. Holbert, Kalka, Knossi, the Fresno Company were covered in detail. A cutaway, sectioned high security lock was also shown to JA and GW. JA said that this should be presented to his personal friend, Bud Miller for action and that I would be contacted. The sale of the WH yacht then came up. Forath gave GW a story and JPN's prompting. GW was impatient and asked where the "South African" Thompson could be reached. I then asked GW if he was referring to PAT and he said yes. I then demanded to know what was going on. I laid out to GW what PAT had done, including murdering PM. JPN interrupted me and told GW that I was mistaken and it was a different PT that I was talking about. It was at that point that GW said to me...

...and I drove the vehicles off and I reported to JPN that icles had been located and picked up. I also reported to my ey, DW (Don Wager), the details. I contacted JPN a few days later e complained to me that PAT had made off with everything.

...with George Wackenhut in Las Vegas. JPN told me that my problems would be over with if I went along with the program. Bryan Weiss drove me to Palm Springs where I rented a car. JPN, myself and Bryan Weiss then drove to Las Vegas.

We arrived in Las Vegas late in the afternoon. We checked into the hotel. After we checked in, I then was introduced to Phil Forath by JPN.

Forath seemed a little nervous and upset with JPN. JPN seemed desperate to have Forath stall George W. on the sale of the yacht. Phil Forath seemed reluctant to go along with JPN.

JPN, myself and Forath then went to a private section of the dining room and met with GW and JA. During dinner, JPN outlined my situation.
Holbert, Kalka, Knossi, the Fresno Company were covered in detail. A cutaway, sectioned high security lock was also shown to JA and GW. JA said that this should be presented to his personal friend, Bud Miller for action and that I would be contacted. The sale of the WH yacht then came up.
Forath gave GW a story and JPN's prompting. GW was impatient and asked where the "South African" Thompson could be reached. I then asked GW if he was referring to PAT and he said yes. I then demanded to know what was going on. I laid out to GW what PAT had done, including murdering PM.
JPN interrupted me and told GW that I was mistaken and it was a different PT that I was talking about. It was at that point that GW said he had a hearing problem and the dinner broke up. I went immediately to make telephone calls. I spread the word that I felt my life was in danger and that JPN, WH and PAT had conspired to kill PM. I then went back to the dining area where I saw PP and GW at a small two-person table talking about the yacht deal. JPN and JA were standing up and they asked me to come to JA's room. At JA's room everybody acted like nothing had happened. There we talked for an hour or so about hi tech projects. JPN and I then went to PP's room and talked P's missed meeting with Paul M. Bill Jensen, Burt Gardener and metal projects. We then went to bed. The next morning
JPN, BW and I drove back to Indio. At no time did JPN mention the problem that came down at dinner.

SET

COPIED FROM HAND WRITTEN COPY BY

PETER ZOIKOSKY 213-838-8883

feb. 16, 1984 statement of Michael J. Riconosciuto:

I first heard of Phil Forath in December of 1981. John Phillip Nichols told Paul Morasca and myself that we needed Phil Forath as a consultant to Recovery Technology Inc. Forath was represented by John P. Nichols as being able to smoothly handle metals transactions for RTI on a large scale. Phil Forath was one of the contacts that John Phillip Nichols had committed to arrange for Paul as part of our deal. Paul Morasca's body was found after he failed to contact Forath for that scheduled meeting in January '82.

CL/CW/MD-06

After Paul's death, JPN came to me with a request. He asked me if I could recover some of Ben Kalka's LSD because he had a sale for 5 lbs of it to someone in Romania. John Phillip Nichols claimed that this was an authorized covert intelligence operation and the proceeds would be used to purchase George Wackenhut's yacht. Top Secret. Military electronics equipment to be delivered to South Africa was also to be purchased according to JPN and delivered by the yacht. I went along with the program because JPN told me that the agency was involved through WSI. I did some checking on my own and became suspicious of JPN. Then JPN met with myself and Rauol Arana of Central Caribbean Research Inc. At this meeting, the details were plainly discussed by Mr. Arana. At that point, JPN directed me to have PAT (Phillip Arthur Thompson) recover -- of Kalka's assets. I then contacted DeSilva, who had control of Kalka's assets and he agreed to release them to me. DeSilva later called the Indian Reservation and gave the location of the assets which included: one bobtail semi truck with power lift gate loaded with amphetamine production chemicals; one red Datsun truck with a portable refrigerator containing the acid.

I accompanied PAT and Steve Finley to the locations of these vehicles in the Oakland area. The keys, title and registration were with each vehicle. PAT and SF drove the vehicles off and I reported to JPN that the vehicles had been located and picked up. I also reported to my attorney, DW (Don Wager), the details. I contacted JPN a few days later and he complained to me that PAT had made off with everything.

...with George Wackenhut in Las Vegas. JPN told me that my problems would be over with if I went along with the program. Bryan Weiss drove me to Palm Springs where I rented a car. JPN, myself and Bryan Weiss then

After Paul's death, JPN came to me with a request. He asked me if I could recover some of Ben Kalka's LSD because he had a sale for 5 lbs of it to someone in Romania. John Phillip Nichols claimed that this was an authorized covert intelligence operation and the proceeds would be used to purchase George Wackenhut's yacht. Top Secret. Military electronics equipment to be delivered to South Africa was also to be purchased according to JPN and delivered by the yacht. I went along with the program because JPN told me that the agency was involved through WSI. I did some checking on my own and became suspicious of JPN. Then JPN met with myself and Raul Arana of Central Caribbean Research Inc. At this meeting, the details were plainly discussed by Mr. Arana. At that point, JPN directed me to have PAT (Phillip Arthur Thompson) recover -- of Kalka's assets. I then contacted DeSilva, who had control of Kalka's assets and he agreed to release them to me. DeSilva later called the Indian Reservation and gave the location of the assets which included: one bobtail semi truck with power lift gate loaded with amphetamine production chemicals; one red Datsun truck with a portable refrigerator containing the acid.

I accompanied PAT and Steve Finley to the locations of these vehicles in the Oakland area. The keys, title and registration were with each vehicle. PAT and SF drove the vehicles off and I reported to JPN that the vehicles had been located and picked up. I also reported to my attorney, DW (Don Wager), the details. I contacted JPN a few days later and he complained to me that PAT had made off with everything.

...with George Wackenhut in Las Vegas. JPN told me that my problems would be over with if I went along with the program. Bryan Weiss drove me to Palm Springs where I rented a car. JPN, myself and Bryan Weiss then drove to Las Vegas.

We arrived in Las Vegas late in the afternoon. We checked into the hotel. After we checked in, I then was introduced to Phil Porath by JPN.

Porath seemed a little nervous and upset with JPN. JPN seemed desperate to have Porath stall George W. on the sale of the yacht. Phil Porath seemed reluctant to go along with JPN.

JPN, myself and Porath then went to a private section of the dining room and met with GW and JA. During dinner, JPN outlined my situation. Holbert, Kalka, Knossi, the Fresno Company were covered in detail. A cutaway, sectioned high security lock was also shown to JA and GW. JA said that this should be presented to his personal friend, Bud Miller for action and that I would be contacted. The sale of the WH yacht then came up.

On my own and became suspicious of JPN. Then JPN met with myself and Rauol Arana of Central Caribbean Research Inc. At this meeting, the details were plainly discussed by Mr. Arana. At that point, JPN directed me to have PAT (Phillip Arthur Thompson) recover -- of Kalka's assets. I then contacted DeSilva, who had control of Kalka's assets and he agreed to release them to me. DeSilva later called the Indian Reservation and gave the location of the assets which included: one bobtail semi truck with power lift gate loaded with amphetamine production chemicals; one red Datsun truck with a portable refrigerator containing the acid.

I accompanied PAT and Steve Finley to the locations of these vehicles in the Oakland area. The keys, title and registration were with each vehicle. PAT and SF drove the vehicles off and I reported to JPN that the vehicles had been located and picked up. I also reported to my attorney, DW (Don Wager), the details. I contacted JPN a few days later and he complained to me that PAT had made off with everything.

...with George Wackenhut in Las Vegas. JPN told me that my problems would be over with if I went along with the program. Bryan Weiss drove me to Palm Springs where I rented a car. JPN, myself and Bryan Weiss then drove to Las Vegas.

We arrived in Las Vegas late in the afternoon. We checked into the hotel. After we checked in, I then was introduced to Phil Porath by JPN.

Porath seemed a little nervous and upset with JPN. JPN seemed desperate to have Porath stall George W. on the sale of the yacht. Phil Porath seemed reluctant to go along with JPN.

JPN, myself and Porath then went to a private section of the dining room and met with GW and JA. During dinner, JPN outlined my situation. Holbert, Kalka, Knossi, the Fresno Company were covered in detail. A cutaway, sectioned high security lock was also shown to JA and GW. JA said that this should be presented to his personal friend, Bud Miller for action and that I would be contacted. The sale of the WH yacht then came up. Borath gave GW a story and JPN's prompting. GW was impatient and asked where the "South African" Thompson could be reached. I then asked GW if he was referring to PAT and he said yes. I then demanded to know what was going on. I laid out to GW what PAT had one, including murdering PM. JPN interrupted me and told GW that I was mistaken and it was a different PT that I was talking about. It was at that point that PM said he had

...and I drove the vehicles off and I reported to JPN that vehicles had been located and picked up. I also reported to my brother, DW (Don Wager), the details. I contacted JPN a few days later and complained to me that PAT had made off with everything.

...with George Wackenhut in Las Vegas. JPN told me that my problems would be over with if I went along with the program. Bryan Weiss drove me to Palm Springs where I rented a car. JPN, myself and Bryan Weiss then drove to Las Vegas.

We arrived in Las Vegas late in the afternoon. We checked into a hotel. After we checked in, I then was introduced to Phil Porath by JPN.

Porath seemed a little nervous and upset with JPN. JPN seemed desperate to have Porath stall George W. on the sale of the yacht. Phil Porath seemed reluctant to go along with JPN.

JPN, myself and Porath then went to a private section of the dining room and met with GW and JA. During dinner, JPN outlined my situation.
Holbert, Kalka, Knossi, the Fresno Company were covered in detail. A cutaway, sectioned high security lock was also shown to JA and GW. JA said that this should be presented to his personal friend, Bud Miller for action and that I would be contacted. The sale of the WH yacht then came up.
Porath gave GW a story and JPN's prompting. GW was impatient and asked where the "South African" Thompson could be reached. I then asked GW if he was referring to PAT and he said yes. I then demanded to know what was going on. I laid out to GW what PAT had one, including murdering PM.
JPN interrupted me and told GW that I was mistaken and it was a different PT that I was talking about. It was at that point that GW said he had a hearing problem and the dinner broke up. I went immediately to make telephone calls. I spread the word that I felt my life was in danger and that JPN, WH and PAT had conspired to kill PM. I then went back to the dining area where I saw PP and GW at a small two-person table talking about the yacht deal. JPN and JA were standing up and they asked me to come to JA's room. At JA's room everybody acted like nothing had happened. There we talked for an hour or so about hi tech projects. JPN and I then went to PP's room and talked P's missed meeting with Paul M. Bill Jensen, Burt Gardener and metal projects. We then went to bed. The next morning
JPN, myself and I drove back to Indio. At no time did JPN mention the problem

...and above the vehicles JPN and reported to JPN that vehicles had been located and picked up. I also reported to my PW (Don Wager), the details. I contacted JPN a few days later complained to me that PAT had made off with everything.

...with George Wackenhut in Las Vegas. JPN told me that my problems be over with if I went along with the program. Bryan Weiss drove me alm Springs where I rented a car. JPN, myself and Bryan Weiss then to Las Vegas.

We arrived in Las Vegas late in the afternoon. We checked into hotel. After we checked in, I then was introduced to Phil Porath by JPN.

Porath seemed a little nervous and upset with JPN. JPN seemed desperate to have Porath stall George W. on the sale of the yacht. Phil Porath seemed reluctant to go along with JPN.

JPN, myself and Porath then went to a private section of the dining room and met with GW and JA. During dinner, JPN outlined my situation.
Holbert, Kalka, Knossi, the Fresno Company were covered in detail. A cutaway, sectioned high security lock was also shown to JA and GW. JA said that this should be presented to his personal friend, Bud Miller for action and that I would be contacted. The sale of the WH yacht then came up.
Porath gave GW a story and JPN's prompting. GW was impatient and asked where the "South African" Thompson could be reached. I then asked GW if he was referring to PAT and he said yes. I then demanded to know what was going on. I laid out to GW what PAT had done, including murdering PM.
JPN interrupted me and told GW that I was mistaken and it was a different PT that I was talking about. It was at that point that GW said he had a hearing problem and the dinner broke up. I went immediately to make telephone calls. I spread the word that I felt my life was in danger and that JPN, WH and PAT had conspired to kill PM. I then went back to the dining area where I saw PP and GW at a small two-person table talking about the yacht deal. JPN and JA were standing up and they asked me to come to JA's room. At JA's room everybody acted like nothing had happened. There we talked for an hour or so about hi tech projects. JPN and I then went to PP's room and talked P's missed meeting with Paul M. Bill Jensen, Burt Gardener and metal projects. We then went to bed. The next morning
JPN, BW and I drove back to Indio. At no time did JPN mention the problem that came down at dinner.

LET

COPIED FROM HAND WRITTEN COPY BY

PETER ZOLOSKY 213-234-7003